Point of sale (POS) systems have become an essential tool for business-es in Saudi arabia. With the rise of technology, the traditional cash register has been replaced by advanced POS systems that offer nu-merous benefits.

CRM

Customer management is an integral part of any business. The idea is to let customers know that you care. A customer management module embedded within your restaurant POS system flawlessly captures customer information to instantly build your database. The system also provides analytical reports right out of the dashboard allowing access to customer's previous purchases, preferences, and transactions, which, in turn, helps improve service relationships.

Owner Dashboard

Especially for restaurant owners, the dashboard is a point of 'success.' It provides current operational and sales information, including expenses and profits accumulated for the day-all on a single screen. The dashboard is the ideal all-in-one manager that powers speed and flexibility to whatever you serve.

Oversee POS can scale your business at the click of a button. With multi- store control, you can facilitate inter - store transfers, manage inventory across locations, and monitor your sales and profits from anywhere you are. Centrally control all your outlets through a single administrator login.

Recipe Management

Manage your food and ingredient procurement costs with an article file that can customize across multiple branches. Oversee POS automates the process of recipe costing by pulling price data from the ingredient library. Additionally, you can also forecast inventory based on the ingredients list. For instance, the system will show you instantly if any of the raw materials for any item is missing or reduced. Ascertain a value below which you will receive an alert when stocks are unavailable.

Kitchen Display

Strengthen the cooking workflow and improve the efficiency of your order fulfillment. Oversee KDS improves operations with multiple categorywise kitchen stations, increases service speed with SLA- powered processes, and offers insights into cooking efficiency in real- time. The Oversee KDS built for the most demanding kitchen conditions.
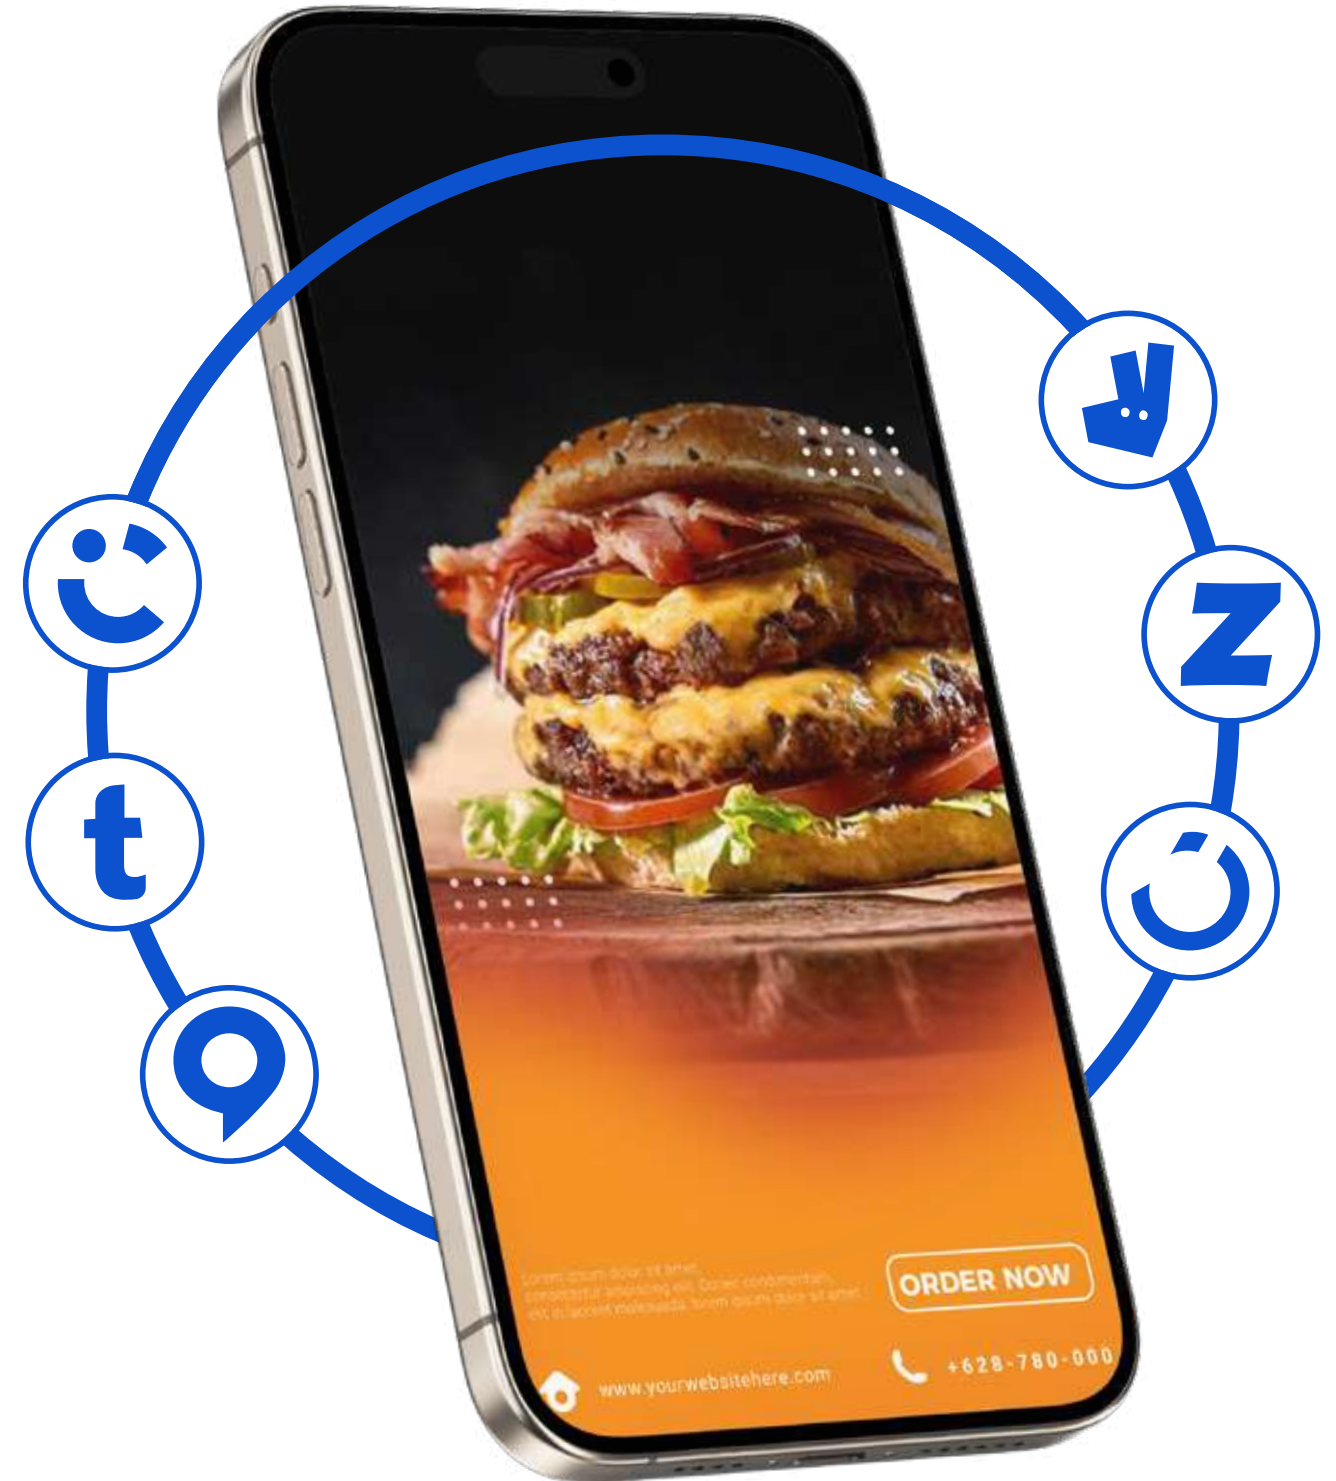

Inventory Management

In this area, you will find well-organized inventory details such as the category, cost of the product, selling price, and availability.And the most important thing is, you can track the inventory in real-time. This way, you know what to reorder and when. Oversee POS updates inventory count for you and sends automatic stock alerts so that this helps you to purchase the products whenever they are required.

Online Order

The food delivery industry is adrift, with some of the biggest (such as Talabat, Zomato, Deliveroo) playing their part in delivering food across various geographies. With OVERSEE POS, all you need is an automated registration system with an integrated front and backend that lets you take orders, schedule deliveries, and accept payments. Besides, stakeholders can generate important sales reports to ascertain profitability.

O-Dine

O-Dine is a digital menu that helps to run your operations how exactly the way you want them! A revolutionary piece of a module, it can be designed, customized, or synchronized to existing systems to provide you with the required visibility across social media platforms, messaging platforms, and the worldwide web, in general. O-Dine is one of the most transparent systems that allows customers to visualize items according to their prices and also gives them an option to place their orders on the same dashboard. The order that took place in O-Dine is directly reflected in the POS Software.

Contactless Dine in

Now the customers can order their favorite food through a tablet that is provided in the restaurant.
